I INVITE THE SICK, no matter what their diseases may be, to call and investigate for themselves before abandoning all hope, for it will cost you nothing. I give no encouragement unless there is a fair prospect of making a cure. I will endeavor to be candid in my opinion, and reasonable in my charges. I claim not to cure everybody, but to cure all that can be cured. I am formerly from New York city, and a graduate of one of the best medical colleges in the United States, and a most thorough Electrician, and have had many years successful practice in the treatment of both acute and chronic diseases. To remove all doubts and convince my patients that I claim nothing but what I am, I refer to my diploms and the aumerous recommendations in my possession, which will always be ready for inspection at my office.

I have located permanently in this city, and all I ask is that you give me a fair, unbiased trial, by which I hope to merit your confidence and give entire satisfaction to all suffering humanity. My reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing, and years of successful practice. I know the cause and the remedy needed, not by guess-work, but by years of experience in the treatment of various diseases.

If the Newhall route is chosen, though, it will be rather a dampener on any hopes which may have been entertained that the Huenème Railroad would form a link of a competing through line between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

MUSSEL HUNTING.

I went mussel hunting up the beach between here and Santa Barbara the other day, but jit was the moulting season, or the mussels were not ripe, or something, for I got none. Not that there were no mussels to get. O, no! There were plenty of mussels—I saw thousands of them—but they had climbed to the top, of the high rocks, just below low water mark, and opened their shells at me derisively. They looked very tempting, but just out of reach. In vain I waited for the tide to go down, or for the mussels to come ashore—I was not particular which, their shells at me derisively. They looked very tempting, but just out of reach. In vain I waited for the tide to go down, or for the mussels to come ashore—I was not particular which. The big breakers boomed up against the rocks, dashing clouds of white street of the big breakers boomed up against the rocks, dashing clouds of white street of the big breakers boomed up against their foamy crests laughing up the sand to my feet, and the mussels grinned stupidly from their secure beds. I am not a seal, nor am amphibious, so it was plainly a hopeless case. Not even hunger could tempt me to brave those breakers, and I turned my back upon the banquet which I could see but could not reach, "Nor cast one longing, lingering look behind."

CLAY PIGEOSS.

Our local sportsmen had another shooting match at clay pigeons this week—practicing for the big tournament take place on May day. The editor of the Signal was not the winner this time. Far from it. In fact, his score was so low that the boys even sneeringly asserted that his winning last time was only an arcident. The victor was Mr. Coffman, of Hueneme. He is a stranger, but they didn't "take him in"—not to any alarming extent.

MINCELLANY.

The said fate of Deputy Sheriff Celis, of your county, comes with a shock to his many friends here, who knew him well and esteemed him for his many manly virtues.

Deputy Assessor Jas. Donlon had lively experience collecting poll taxes from a crowd of Chinese the other day. The heathens resisted payment, and one of them started for the deputy with an ugly-looking knife. A cool pair of eyes behind a six-shooter, though, is a terrible dampener on Mongolian courage, and Mr. Donlon collected the taxes without bloodshed.

Judge Sepulveda, of Los Angeles, is now. His many friends, of whom he has legion, are always glad to welcome him to our midst. Many of the midstant of the spanish for "good fellow."

MAGNETISM—The new source of health!

Dr. Edwin Robbins, the celebrated Australian Electric and Magnetic Healer, respectfully informs the public that he has opened an office in the city of Los Angeles. Dr. Robbins discards the use of surgery, drugs, minerals and all other medicines in his treatment, and relies solely on the power of magnetism. An experience of several years in the Australian colontes, San Francisco, Sait Lake City and Denver, in which places he has treated successfully thousands of persons, enables him to assert, with confidence that he can cure diseases that have defied the application of medical science. Magnetism is the life principle within us. The sir we breathe is charged with it. It is the vital force emanating from all persons and that which connects the soul with the body. In support of this theory he cures soute pains instantly, local pains in a few days, and builds up the most shattered constitution in a short time. Mr. Smith gives the most flattering reasons to hope that the free postal delivery system will be inaugurated on or about July 1, 1883. He has not yet had time to thoroughly look the city over and investigate whether or not all things are ready for the meas-ure, but is quite assured that in point of population and receipts, Los Angeles is ntitled to the system, and he will so re-commend.
